

Posted on Tuesday, May. 17, 2011

Shenandoah Middle kids show off talents

By Daniel Bock
For The Miami Herald

Shenandoah Middle School showed off its students artistic talents on Thursday, May 12. Hundreds of people attended the event, which featured student art works based on academic themes.

DANIEL BOCK / FOR THE MIAMI HERALD

Local resident Tania Benavide checks out some of the works displayed during an exhibition night at Shenandoah Middle School, Thursday, May 12, 2011, in Miami. Hundreds of people attended the event, which featured student art works based on academic themes.

Flamenco class students perform during an exhibition night at Shenandoah Middle School, Thursday, May 12, 2011, in Miami. Hundreds of people attended the event,

David Osorio, 5, from Coconut Grove Elementary, checks out student art inspired by Salvador Dali during an exhibition night at Shenandoah Middle School,